

PARIS GREEN IN WATER AT M'COWN'S FARM

Dastardly Deed Discovered Early
Friday Morning Before Animals Had Drank

Some scoundrel placed paris green in a spring and pool in a pasture on the farm of Messrs. A. K. and T. C. McCown on the Red House pike, three miles from Richmond Thursday night. Luckily the gentlemen discovered the poison before any animals had a chance to drink of the water, which would, of course, have caused almost instant death. There is no clew as yet to the perpetrator of such a dastardly act, but everything is being done to discover him and bring him to justice.

Tom McCown went to the spring with a mule to water him Friday morning, and noticed the green looking matter in the water; he then went to the spring and found the same there. He reported the matter to his father. They scraped out a lot of it and brought it to town at once and Pharmacist Beecher Adams, of Stockton & Son's drug store, made a chemical analysis of it, and quickly found it was Paris green, in sufficient amounts to kill an entire herd of cattle. Fortunately Mr. McCown's cattle were in another pasture. There were two cows and a couple of horses in the field where the spring and pool are located, and none of them had drank any of the water, it seemed.

Mr. McCown and his friends are naturally greatly incensed over such a deed. If McCown had any enemies he does not know it, and there is much mystery connected with this affair.

BAPTISTS HOLD FINE SESSION AT UNION

A most delightful and interesting session of the Boone's Creek Baptist Association is being held with the Baptist church at Union City this week. There are 20 churches in the association, located in the counties of Madison, Estill, Clark, Powell, Montgomery and Lee. The present membership is 2,793.

Mr. R. F. Scudder, a member of the Union City church, was elected Moderator with S. J. Conkwright, of Winchester, clerk and secretary and treasurer.

The churches of the association showed by their reports that all are in splendid condition. The Association enthusiastically endorsed the raising of its apportionment of $2,000 for the great Seventy-Five Million Dollar Campaign of Southern Baptists. It was decided to hold next year's meeting with the Corinth church in Clark county, on Wednesday after the second Sunday in September, 1920. Dr. C. M. Thompson, of Winchester, will preach the introductory sermon.

Esteemed Citizen Dies

A Real Kick In Toledo Booze

(By Associated Press)
Toledo, O., Sept. 19—Federal authorities are investigating a report that home made whiskey so strong that it required the services of three physicians to work over 20 of the imbibers, was found in the foreign district on the East Side. The head of a local manufacturing concern reported the incident to the authorities, claiming that his factory was crippled by the inability of the workers to be at their benches. Investigation is said to have developed that two of the men had purchased stills in Detroit. Then a quantity of the liquor was made and a party held. When the fluid was consumed a score of the drinkers were stretched upon the floor.

UNION FORCES READY FOR STRIKE

(By Associated Press)

Pittsburg, Sept. 19—The headquarters of the national committee for organizing the iron and steel workers, was a busy place today, preparing for the strike of steel workers next Monday. Organizers were given instructions and sent out to mill communities in this district. Secretary Foster said he wanted it made clear that the strike was called against every iron and steel mill and blast furnace in the United States not working under union agreements. There is much speculation as to the number of men who will strike. Union leaders could give no figures and none are forthcoming from corporation sources. The United States Steel Corporation claims that only fifteen per cent of its employees are members of unions.

It adds that in case of failure to get satisfactory results in any community, the situation will be handled directly by the Department of Justice.

SUES L. & N. HERE FOR $5000 DAMAGES

Suit was filed in Madison county circuit court here by Attorney G. Murray Smith representing Mrs. C. C. Davis, of Lakeland, Fla., against the U. S. Railroad Administration and the L. & N. Railroad Company for $5,000 damages. Mrs. Davis, in her petition claims that she was a passenger from the south July 31st on the through train which reaches Richmond about four o'clock in the morning; that when she attempted to leave the Pullman car in which she was riding that she found the door was locked, and was unable to discover either porter or conductor; when about a half mile beyond Richmond she claims that she found the conductor and demanded that he back the train to Richmond and let her off. She says that he refused, but stopped the train out in the country, forced her to get off and walk back to the city in darkness. She claims $5,000 damages for the mental anguish, physical pain and discomfort she sustained by such discourteous and negligent actions of the company's employees.

ORA HACKETT BUYS JAS. NOLAN FARM

The splendid farm of the late Capt. James Nolan was sold at auction Wednesday, to Mr. Ora Hackett at $110.17 an acre. The place, which is located 10 miles from Richmond on the waters of Muddy Creek, near Union City, is an attractive country home, and was considered a bargain. The sale of live stock and personalty was successful in every way. A pair of mules was bought by Mr. James McKinney at $187 for one and $146 for the other. Corn was sold to Mr. Hayden Turpin at $7.25 a barrel. Byrd Broadus paid $100 for a milk cow. Lewis Brandenburg bought the cattle a week previous to the sale.

Farming implements brought splendid prices. "Uncle John" Shearer was at his best and that means that he got the high dollar if it was there.

The Calvary Revival

The services at the Calvary tent last night were very impressive. One. Evangelist Tolle preached a touching sermon from the text: "And the boil shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place." Isa. 28:17. He said in part, that we are constantly trying to excuse ourselves for sinning. From the Garden of Eden to the town of Richmond this old story has come.

There are three false refuges: the refuge of good intentions; the refuge of Godless morality; the refuge of a nominal religion.

The tent meeting will continue morning and evening through Sunday. In case the wind storm should continue so as to make it unsafe under the tent, the meeting will be held in the store house used by the Calvary church.

COURT OF APPEALS TO HONOR BURNAM

Prominent Lawyers of State To Draft Resolutions On Death of Distinguished Jurist

Judge E. C. O'Rear, of Frankfort, this week, appointed the following named lawyers to draft a suitable memorial to the late Judge A. R. Burnam of Richmond, Ky:

Judge J. P. Hobson, of Frankfort.
Col. John R. Allen, of Lexington.

Hon. W. B. Smith of Richmond.
Judge E. C. O'Rear, of Farnkfort.

Hon. Charles H. Rhodes, of Danville.
Hon. J. A. Sullivan, of Richmond.

Judge A. P. Humphrey, of Louisville.

Judge J. H. Hazelrigg, of Frankfort.

A report from this committee will be heard at an early meeting of the Bar Association.

The Lexington Leader Thursday had the following editorial tribute to Judge Burnam:

The passing of Judge A. R. Burnam, of Madison county, recently chronicled, removed from the professional and political life of Kentucky a fine example of that type of splendid manhood which unfortunately is not so frequently found as it once was.

This is not necessarily a reflection upon the character of men, broadly speaking, who are dominant in civic and governmental affairs today. But somehow or other, either our recollections of men like Judge Burnam and his distinguished father surrounded them with peculiar reverence and esteem, or the exactions and competitions of modern life compel the average man of this age to submerge some of those higher qualities which in other days influenced so profoundly the lives of the people.

Judge Burnam was an eminent lawyer, a man of high ideals and a lofty patriot. In his public service he would have resented with positive indignation any suggestion that he directly or indirectly use the power conferred on him by the people for selfish ends of any nature whatsoever. He belonged to that school of statesmanship which is founded upon the theory that "public office is a public trust," a sacred commission to be cherished and protected, rather than capitalized and besmirched by political intrigue and selfish ambition. Unfortunate indeed, it is, that these ideals are not more common today.

A Fine Sale In Garrard

At Stanford Hughes & McCarty closed a deal for the purchase of the farm of Bias McGuffey, on Green river, for W. H. J. Moore, a citizen of Rockcastle county. The farm contains 200 acres and the price is $13,000.

This hustling firm is advertising in the Daily Register to-day, the magnificent Robinson farm, just over the Lincoln line in Boyle county. It is a splendid place and will undoubtedly attract land buyers from all over the state.

Bible School Workers To Meet

There will be a meeting of the representatives chosen from each Bible school of the Christian church Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21st at 3 o'clock in the parlor of the First Christian church, Richmond. There is an urgent request, that one or more representatives from each school in the county be present to discuss some important matters.

COLLINS-HARLAN CONCERT SCORES HIT

The opera house was packed to capacity Thursday evening in response to invitations issued by Muncy Brothers, who brought two renowned singers to Richmond. Messrs. Collins and Harlan kept the audience guessing from the beginning of the concert until the final number.

A beautiful Edison phonograph which was borrowed from Jailer Burgess, for the occasion, was placed on the stage, and the artists stood at either side, and at times would give voice to the opening lines of some song, and then suddenly their lips were still, but the song kept flowing on. They proved beyond a doubt that no difference existed between the living artists and the recreation of the new Edison phonograph.

The program which was offered for the evening was pronounced by all in attendance to be one of the best ever given in this city, and words of congratulations and many thanks was extended the Muncy boys for bringing such a splendid concert to Richmond.

DR. McVEY TO SPEAK HERE MONDAY NIGHT

The local Kentucky Memorial Building Committee met last evening at the court house with representatives of the different churches, some of Kentucky's foremost educators and a representative of the local American Post Legion. At this meeting a definite course was outlined for carrying on the Kentucky Memorial Building Campaign in Madison county next week.

The campaign opens Monday with a public mass meeting at the court house at 8 p. m. Kentucky's chief educator, Dr. Frank L. McVey, President of the University of Kentucky at Lexington, will deliver the principal address. In his address he will detail information on the proposed $300,000 Kentucky Memorial Building. This subject is of vital interest to every Kentucky citizen and they should need no coaxing to make their presence conspicuous.

Dr. McVey needs no introduction to Madison county citizens, having spoken in May, at the Convocation of County Superintendents at the Eastern Kentucky Normal school. Richmond feels honored, indeed to have a speaker of such national note to speak here.

Two More Carnival Nights

GREAT COMMUNION SERVICE SUNDAY

At First Christian Church Sunday
Will Prepare the Way For Violette Meeting

A great communion service is being planned at the First Christian church next Sunday which it is expected will be attended by the largest number of members in the history of the church. Every member of the church is being urged to be present, except in cases of illness and in such cases, the elders of the church and the minister will administer the communion in the homes during the afternoon.

Families are being requested to sit in family groups and many of the young men who have recently returned from the service will be in the audience in such groups for the first time. Mrs. Pickels and her chorus are arranging special music for the service and Mr. Carpenter is to speak on a theme appropriate to the occasion.

It is expected that this service will prepare the way for the Violette meeting which is to begin the following Sunday. Everything is being put in readiness for this meeting. The religious census of the city was taken this week. Forty-two young people of the church put the census on in three hours Thursday afternoon.

Curt Jett At Bethel Church

Rev. Curtis Jett will preach at the Bethel church Saturday night and Sunday. All are invited to hear him. Following an address Sunday by the Rev. Jett more than sixty of the young men confined at the State School of Reform at Greendale have announced their intention of joining the church. One hundred and twenty-five, including the ones who expressed their intention to join the church requested the prayers of the church to aid them in the effort to "turn to the right."

LEXINGTON MAN GIVES REASONS FOR HIS BELIEF

Johnson Thinks Benefits Gained Justify Glowing Tribute
Paid Trutona

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 18—"Because of relief I've gained I feel that I'm justified in saying that Trutona gave me more benefits than any other medicine I've taken," Russell Johnson, 66 years old, retired furniture dealer and well known Lexington resident of 605 South Lime Stone street, said recently.

"For many years I've been troubled with constipation," he continued. "I had taken laxatives constantly. I would become so dizzy at times that I could hardly get around. I was nervous and restless at night—so bad I couldn't sleep. Headaches bothered me constantly."

"The relief I've gained in Trutona has caused me to hope that others will try the new medicine and become convinced as I have. My bowels act with clocklike regularity now; I don't experience the dizzy spells any more and my appetite is much better than before. I'm glad to recommend Trutona."

Mr. Johnson has voiced the opinion of thousands of people who have tried Trutona and found the perfect tonic to be unsurpassed as a reconstructive agency as well as a most successful combatant of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, nervousness, sleeplessness, and the like.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Richmond at H. L. Perry & Son's.

IRELAND MAY PUT CASE TO LEAGUE

WILSON SUGGESTS ARTICLE XI
COVERS STATUS OF ERIN'S CLAIMS.

LABOR MAKES QUERIES

President In San Francisco Says Conference Dealt Only With Lands Belonging to Empire Conquered By Allies.

Aboard President Wilson's Special Train.—Just before President Wilson arrived in San Francisco on his tour of the country in behalf of the League of Nations, there came an opportunity for him to answer a vital question concerning which his political friends, as well as his political foes, have lately been increasingly insistent. The question was, "How about Ireland?" The President made certain replies to a series of interrogations dealing with that problem, propounded to him by the San Francisco Labor Council. And now the whole Pacific coast is eagerly discussing his responses and what they meant.

The queries were sent to Mr. Wilson by telegraph as this train was rolling through the Sacramento Valley and his explanations were made as soon as he reached the metropolis of the Pacific coast.

Question No. 1 was: "Under the covenant does this nation obligate itself to assist any member of the league in putting down a rebellion of its subjects or conquered people?" Obviously this meant: "Are we obliged to help England put down Irish revolutions?"

The answer was: "It does not." Friends of Ireland took this to mean: "We will not."

Question No. 2, "Under the Covenant can this nation independently recognize a government whose people seek to achieve or have achieved their independence from a member of the League?" In other words, this meant: "Can we recognize Ireland's claim to being a republic?"

The President replied: "The independent action of the United States in a matter of this kind is in no way limited or affected by the covenant of the League of Nations." In other words: "We can recognize Ireland if and when the proper time comes without regard to the League."

Question No. 3: "Under the covenant are those subject nations or peoples only that are mentioned in the Peace Treaty entitled to the right of self-determination, or does the League possess the right to accord a similar privilege to other subject nations or peoples?" This meant, for example, "Why Poland and not Ireland?"

Answer: "It was not possible for the Peace conference to act with regard to the self-determination of any territories except those which belonged to the defeated empires; but in the covenant, Article XI is set up for the first time a forum to which all claims of self-determination which are likely to disturb the peace of the world or the good understanding between nations can be brought."

The section of Article XI to which President Wilson refers reads as follows: "It is declared to be the friendly right of each member of the league to bring to the attention of the assembly or council any circumstances whatever affecting international relations which threaten to disturb international peace or the good understanding upon which peace depends." Some persons interested in the Irish problem declare that this provision does Ireland no good, since she is not a member of the league, but President Wilson's personal contention is that Ireland can complain of any "circumstances" she objects to, inasmuch as she is part of England, which is, of course, a "member."

Question No. 4: "Why was the case of Ireland not heard at the peace conference, and what is your position on the subject of self-determination for Ireland?"

Answer: "The case of Ireland was not heard at the peace conference because the peace conference had no jurisdiction over any question of that sort which did not affect territories which belong to the defeated empires. My position on the subject of self-determination for Ireland is expressed in Article XI of the covenant in which I was particularly interested because it seemed to me necessary that a forum should be created to which all peoples could bring any matter which was likely to affect the peace and freedom of the world."

By those who are accompanying him, it is known that the President believes that Ireland can bring her case before the league for settlement, when the league is actually in existence, for repeatedly he has said in his speeches that under Article XI the smallest and weakest of peoples might have as much attention from the league as the greatest. In fact, it might be said that Article XI is Mr. Wilson's "pet" clause in the league covenant.

It was intended by the President that some time during his stay on the Pacific coast, which is, of course, vitally interested in Japanese affairs, he should discuss more intimately than ever the question of the return to China by Japan of the Shantung territory awarded to the empire of the Mikado by a secret treaty with England and France. The President has expressed himself as confident that Japan will not long delay this return.

WAR SOUVENIR GRENADE BANKS NOW AVAILABLE

THESE WONDERFUL INSTRUMENTS OF DESTRUCTION NOW ON PEACEFUL MISSION.

WHOLE CAR LOAD OF THEM

Banks in Nearly Every City in Eighth District Have Limited Supply.

These Hand Grenade Banks, for which the children and grown-ups of Missouri, Arkansas and Kentucky have been waiting with considerable eagerness for some time, have arrived. A whole carload of them was shipped by fast freight from Washington by the War Department and consigned to Government Director Wilson at St. Louis for distribution throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District.

These now harmless little souvenirs, which, when they were made, were powerful instruments for inflicting death on the Boche, and which in the War of Nations proved that they had lived up to their reputation, are now to enter upon a career of usefulness and it is expected that, in the future, they will prove as great upbuilders as they were destroyers in the past. These little grenades, which are small enough for a man to grasp in one hand and hurl many yards, have been divested of their strength. The powerful explosives and the fulminating caps have been removed. A child can play with them in perfect safety and yet, outwardly, the grenade has all of the appearance that it had in actual warfare.

It required much finesse on the part of the government officials and the financiers of the district to place these real souvenirs in the hands of the people. First, treasury officials had to deal with the officials of the War Department and purchase them. Then, because of the first cost of the grenades and the additional cost of removing the explosives, the treasury officials were not able to give them outright as gifts.

That is where the banks of Missouri, Arkansas and Kentucky took a hand in the game. They bought these banks, many thousands of them, from the Treasury Department.

Now they are being given outright to those who are entitled to them. Any person under the age of 18 years who buys one War Savings Stamp (the value of which this month is $4.20) from one of the banks that is authorized to distribute them is entitled to one of the grenades.

Any person over 18 years of age may obtain one of the grenades if he purchases from one of the authorized agents more than one of the War Savings Stamps during the current year.

In many of the cities and towns throughout Arkansas, Missouri and Kentucky, banks have taken advantage of the government's offer and have laid in a supply of these grenades. The person who wishes to avail himself of the offer must needs be in a hurry in purchasing his stamps. The supply is limited and it is doubtful if any more can be obtained when the present supply is gone.

DIRECTOR'S 'WORK TRAIN.'

Head of Big Railroad Resents Calling His Train a Private One.

A Regional Railroad Director was recently visited on his special train by a newspaper reporter. One of the first things the railroad man said was, "Please don't say in your paper that I am here in my 'private train.' Call it my 'work train'."

His idea was obvious. With private railroad cars we have come to connect the idea of luxury, indolence, and great wealth. In all probability this mobile office was made for real economy. Let us be wise enough to judge each expenditure on its merits under its own peculiar conditions.

The man who wears threadbare clothes and lives on insufficient and unwholesome food that he may save 70 per cent of his income, may be the least thrifty individual in the community. Stand for WISE expenditure, rather than simply SMALL expenditure.

Sees Advantage of Treasury Savings Certificates in Thrift Movement.

John Connery, president of the Miami Coal Company in Illinois, is so thoroughly "sold" on the thrift idea that he has purchased $15,012 in War Savings Stamps, so that they may be available for distribution among employees of the company and his family.

In many of the Illinois coal mines, the paymaster of the company travels from one mine to another, paying off. Unless the paymaster carries with him a supply of thrift and savings stamps, they are frequently not available for purchase by the miners.

Mr. Connery was so anxious to instill the thrift idea among the miners working for his concern that he used his own capital to put his idea into effect.

Keep Patriotic Fires Burning

(Courier Journal Editorial)

Kentucky should keep alive the flames of patriotism that has showed itself so many times in the history of the State and of the Nation. The great war found Kentucky ready to do her part. What was done by her sons who are now dead, her sons and daughters who are living should wish to keep before the future citizens of the State; before boys and young men, especially, as a constant reminder, to all generations, of the duty and the responsibilities that are to fall upon them.

Many cities and towns in Kentucky may erect memorials, but it is especially fitting that a memorial be erected upon the campus of the University of Kentucky as the tribute of the State to Kentucky's sacrifice in the war, for there will be gathered every year the youth of all parts of the State; boys and young men who are to become leaders in Kentucky. The building, devoted to student activities and to the general purposes of the University, would impress students constantly with the spirit of patriotism.

It is proposed that the name of every man from the State who died in the war be placed in the lobby of the building, to further endear it to the people. That proposal should be adopted. Time would not diminish, but would increase interest in the names. Each would be of legendary value to a clan. Kentuckians 100 years from the present time would visit the building in an ennobling spirit of reverence, discovering with pride the names of soldiers who were of the kith and kin of their ancestors, or who were their own forebears, for not all of those who gave their lives in the war were mere youths. Some were young men who, with more than the ordinary courage of the soldier, went to war leaving at home their wives and children, or wives who became the mothers of their children after beginning of their service, or after their supreme sacrifice.

Regardless of what other memorials may be reared to Kentuckians who died in the war, that proposed for the University of Kentucky should be built. There should be ready response to the campaign for funds. The response should be widespread. The memorial should not reflect large donations from a few well-to-do Kentuckians, but small donations from many. To contribute for such a purpose within the measure of one's means should not be deemed a hardship, but a privilege. The solicitors should be looked upon as offerers of an opportunity; not as persons requesting that the favor of assistance be granted. Each donor will do something more than lay a flower upon the graves of Kentucky's heroic dead—his dead—because he will contribute toward a permanent tribute which will invite the visits of succeeding generations of Kentuckians, to honor the brave whose lives were given for the cause of liberty and of true civilization in the greatest war of history.

---and no one could tell the difference

Last night's audience mystified Tries vainly to detect difference between art of famous songsters and RE-CREATIONS by Edison's new phonograph

Those present at the Opera House last night saw Collins and Harlan walk onto the stage. They saw them take their positions next to a beautiful cabinet. They saw their lips give voice to the opening lines of Everything is Peaches Down in Georgia. Then suddenly their lips were still—but the song kept flowing on.

How came this? They were hearing the voices of Collins and Harlan, yet Collins and Harlan were not singing. The entire audience gasped as it slowly realized that it had been unable to distinguish between the living voices of Collins and Harlan and the RE-CREATION of those voices by the New Edison.

This was the daring test undertaken last night at the Opera House by Thomas A. Edison. He sought to prove that no difference exists between the voice of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. The musically cultured of Richmond were invited to pass judgment. No test could have been more exacting.

Collins and Harlan made comparison after comparison. The mystified audience tried vainly to catch a difference between the original rendition and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one could tell one from the other.

It was a triumph whole and complete for the New Edison.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

The instrument used in last night's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $285 (in Canada $431). It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

The New Edison alone of all phonographs is capable of sustaining this test. Until Mr. Edison knew it would do so, he regarded his work unfinished.

Ask some one who was present last night. Learn the amazing truth. Then come in and let us prove it personally to you.

Ship Hogs To Market Via Motor Vehicle

Shipping hogs to market via motor trucks not only saves delivery time, but the saving in weight more than pays all the costs of operating the truck.

Before hogs are shipped to the stockyards they have to be fed to reach a certain weight. In other words, they are fattened before they are ready for market, which entails the use of expensive foods, such as corn, etc.

In the past it has been found that hogs thus fattened fed on the farm were below weight after being driven to the stockyards, thereby necessitating feeding them up again before ready for the market.

A certain stock raiser recently figured that it cost him nearly double to have to feed a hog up to the required weight after arriving at the stockyards. Recently he purchased a truck and found that his hogs arrived at the stockyards in the same condition and with the same weight as when they left the farm, thus saving more than the cost of the entire operation of the truck, including drivers' wages, depreciation, wear and tear on the tires, cost of gasoline, oil, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kirk, of Maysville, were here Monday en route to Berea, to place his brother, Frank, in college.

Strother Haynes, of Adair county, a student at Centre College, has been designated by Congressman King Swope to take the examination next February for entrance to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis as a midshipman.

Congressman King Swope Talks About The 8th District

The following statement is given out by Representative King Swope in regard to this section of the state in which he pays tribute to the late James B. McCreary, Harvey Helm and others who have made records for themselves that will never be forgotten.

Representative King Swope says:

"My district, the Eighth Congressional District of Kentucky, is one of the most typically American districts in the United States, composed of people noted for their intelligence, patriotism, industry and hospitality. In this district are Kentucky College for Women—the largest female college in Kentucky, Centre College, which has turned out more statesmen than any other college in the South and has produced more vice presidents of the United States than any other college in the nation, and Berea College, which was declared by President Wilson to be the greatest institution of its kind in our country.

"It is the district that was at one time represented by the distinguished and lamented late Jas. B. McCreary, who was twice governor of Kentucky and served in the United States Senate. It is the home district of the distinguished and late William O. Bradley, who was the first Republican governor Kentucky ever had and who was later elected to the United States Senate and died while a member of that body. And it was represented for the last twelve years by the lamented Harvey Helm.

"It is a district that has always stood for everything that is American and opposed everything that was un-American. It is in the heart of the famous Bluegrass region of Kentucky known throughout the world for its fine lands, fine cattle and thoro-bred horses. The people are engaged principally in agricultural pursuits and have scarcely felt the imprint of foreign immigration. The people of my district believe in liberal legislation in favor of the promotion of agricultural interest.

"They are in favor of all legislation promoting education and extension of good roads. They believe that the daylight saving law should have been repealed. They believe that the soldiers who won the great war are entitled to added consideration. They believe that the taxpayers are entitled to some relief from excessive taxes since the war is over. They believe that the hemp and tobacco growers are entitled to protection.

"I advocated all of these principles in my platform and made a vigorous fight in their behalf in my campaign while my opponent, Judge Hardin, had no definite platform but made a purely partisan campaign declaring that 'a vote for Hardin is a vote for Wilson,' and devoted a great portion of his time to a discussion and advocacy of the League of Nations."

New Hampshire is the 16th State to ratify woman's suffrage and the leaders of that movement think the amendment will be favorably passed on by the Legislatures of three fourths of the State in time for women to vote in the next Presidential election.

WANTS NEWS OF HER LATE HUSBAND'S KIN

The editor of the Daily Register received a letter from Mrs. Mattie Sutton, of Jonesboro, La., the other day, seeking information regarding the family of her husband, the late Edward Sutton, who, she thinks came from Madison county, Kentucky. Her letter is published below and is self-explanatory. Anyone who can give her the desired information, will have her appreciation. She writes as follows:

Jonesboro, La.
Editor Daily Register
Richmond, Ky.

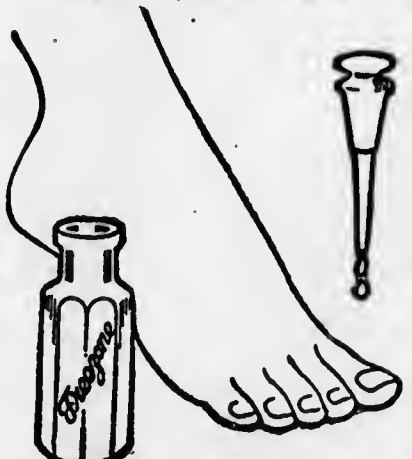

Dear Sir:
Can you give me any information regarding any of the people by the name of Sutton living in your county? My husband was Edward Sutton, whose people lived in Kentucky at the time of our marriage 18 years ago. He had not been home for some years as he had some little hard family feelings over sending his sister to school; leaving home and not informing them as to his whereabouts. He was the only boy in the family and had two sisters. I had never met any of his people, but he was planning to take me to his home where he died. As I did not know who to write for information I have waited these years, hoping to find some one who could inform me, as our boy, Edward, now 16 years old, is very anxious to know some of his father's people and a Mr. Carl A. Carter with the Wrought Iron Range Co., was in our home recently and said there were quite a number of Suttons around that country. As near as I can remember his father and mother lived in Madison county. His two sisters were married and if I mistake not, an uncle lived in Louisville, Ky. I have no pictures of him as he often told me he had one at home when he was younger he would give me. However our boy looks very very much like him and if you could put me in touch with any one who was related to him, I would greatly appreciate it and pay you for your trouble. Thanking you for any information I remain,
Very truly,
MRS. MATTIE SUTTON.

WHERE'S THAT FELLOW WHO WANTS A WIFE?

Some time ago some paper in Kentucky carried an advertisement or a letter from a man in Missouri who wanted a wife—a subscriber thinks it was the Daily Register, but the writer does not recall it. Anyway the said subscriber wants to know his name and address, so if you know it, or anything that would be interesting on the subject, you might "come across" with it, for publication, for here's what the subscriber says on the subject and who knows but what a true and loving wife is waiting to end the loneliness of the Man from Missouri. The subscriber writes:
Would appreciate the name and address of the man out West, I believe in Missouri, who wanted you to help him find a wife in Kentucky. The advertisement was in the winter. If you still have it, I would be glad for it to appear once again. A worthy party, a subscriber.

Weekly Health Talks

Where Most Sickness Begins and Ends

BY FRANKLIN DUANE, M. D.

It can be said broadly that most human ills begin in the stomach and end in the stomach. Good digestion means good health, and poor digestion means bad health. The minute your stomach fails to properly dispose of the food you eat, troubles begin to crop out in various forms. Indigestion and dyspepsia are the commonest forms, but thin, impure blood, headaches, backaches, pimples, blotches, dizziness, belching, coated tongue, weakness, poor appetite, sleeplessness, coughs, colds and bronchitis are also common. There is but one way to better your health, and that is to put and keep your stomach in good order. This is easy to do if you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and is so safe to take, for it is made of roots and herbs. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., stands behind this standard medicine, and it is good to know that so distinguished a physician is proud to have his name identified with it. When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that these remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines. If piles are torturing you, get and use Pierce's Anodyne Pile Ointment. The quick relief it gives is hard to believe until you try it. If constipated, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken while using Anodyne Pile Ointment. Few indeed are the cases which these splendid remedies will not relieve and usually overcome. They are so good that nearly every drug store has them for sale.

His Ambition

Leaning over the transport rail and idly watching a calm sea and in love, apparently, with his thoughts, a rangy negro with service stripes on his left arm and worrying about no submarines, which long since had surrendered by the gross, was awakened from his reverie by a colored sergeant.

"Boy, you is lookin' powerful peaceful. What you-all gwine do when you gits back to Gawgah?"
The dreaming negro lazily waved him to silence and murmured:
"Yalla, when Ah gits mahself home Ah gwine to borrow all de money Ah kin an' buy two mules. Then Ah gwine name one of 'em Lutenant an' de tother one Sargent, an' 'leven times ev'ry day Ah gwine to kick hell outen both of 'em!"

HARDEST PART OF WAR RISK INSURANCE

Is Persuading Ex-Soldiers They Ought To Keep It Up—Uncle Sam's Generous Plan

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—A big, constructive proposition for the American soldier-war risk insurance is now about to come into its own in the fullest sense of the word. As organized it was better than any pension system ever designed by any government, planning for the "dough-boy's" future as well as the chances of war, to a remarkable extent. Weak spots developed, of course, but they are now largely ironed out. Curiously enough, the hardest work ahead of this enormous section of Uncle Sam's war machine is persuading the soldiers that they cannot afford, from a business standpoint, to cancel their insurance.

The House of Representative recently spent a profitable day in discussing the war risk insurance bureau, and, finally passed a bill rectifying some of the obvious errors. There was no politics in the debate, both Democrats and Republicans joining in helpful suggestions. The Republicans conceded that the Wilson Administration had done a big thing in planning and organizing the War Risk Insurance Bureau, and Democrats agreed with Republicans that its career had shown need of some changes. Both sides of the House agreed that abolition of the enterprise was impossible from every viewpoint.

Because of the criticism of the bureau, much of which was unwarranted, Representatives Scott Ferris, of Oklahoma, Democrat, presented the achievements of the organization in condensed form. So forceful was the argument that increased allowances for the soldiers were provided for without objection. Said Mr. Ferris: "I have always been proud that the Congress enacted the war risk insurance law and created under it a bureau whose duty it shall be to look after, first, soldiers' insurance; second dependent families, and, third, soldiers who were disabled during the great conflict."

"There have been times when this great bureau has appeared to be moving slowly and ponderously in the discharge of its duties, but I doubt if the general public is aware of the enormity of this great undertaking. The writing of insurance for practically all the 4,500,000 soldiers, sailors and marines who entered this war will of necessity disclose what a monstrous task it was at the very beginning. The further fact that 13,500 employees, many of them untrained, were necessary to conduct this great bureau makes it apparent what a monstrous task it has been. The amount of money passing through the War Risk Insurance Bureau last year was $550,000,000. The Government's liability for outstanding insurance through the Bureau is more than $39,000,000,000.

"The enormity of the task of the War Risk Insurance Bureau is shown quite well, I think, in the following estimates of expenditures of the Bureau since its creation: •

"More than $241,000,000 has been distributed by the Bureau to dependent families of soldiers as family allowances.

"There has been paid by the Bureau $14,458,932.77 to disabled soldiers as compensation.

"Insurance awards already have caused the expenditures of $51,672,187.99, and it is estimated that the total liability of the Bureau on insurance to be paid on awards already made, reaches the astounding total of $1,125,000,000."

Under the present law, Mr. Ferris pointed out, while disability is total and pending the time when the soldier is nursed back to usefulness, either in part or in whole, the monthly schedule of compensation is as follows:

- (a) If the disabled person has neither wife nor child living, $30.
- (b) If he has a wife but no child living, $45.
- (c) If he has a wife and one child living, $55.
- (d) If he has a wife and two children, $65.
- (e) If he has a wife and three or more children living, $75.
- (f) If he has no wife but one child living, $40, with $10 each for each additional child up to two.
- (g) If he has a mother or father either or both dependent on him for support, then in addition to the above amounts, $10 for each.

Under the proposed law it was shown that the amount paid each of the disabled soldiers, as their relative rights appear, while the disability is rated as total and temporary the monthly compensation will be as follows:

- (a) If the disabled person has neither wife nor child living, $80.
- (b) If he has a wife but no child living, $90.
- (c) If he has a wife and one child living, $95.
- (d) If he has no wife but one child living, $90, with $5 for each additional child up to two.
- (f) If he has a mother or father either or both dependent on him for support, then in addition to the above amount, $10 for each parent so dependent.

The proposed law further provides that in addition to the increase just mentioned the director shall allow $20 a month to a disabled person who is so helpless as to be constantly in need of a nurse or attendant.

"Members here and elsewhere will proclaim that we are paying the disabled soldiers a sum out of all proportion to any pension, bounty or disability allowance ever given before," said Mr. Ferris. "For me and mine that not alarming. If in all the wide world there is one class of citizens that the Government should be generous with and should try to make full amends to it is the soldier who offered his all and who, as the battle raged on, sacrificed either all or part."

"This legislation makes substantial increases. As we glance over the schedule in the present law and that in the proposed law it can be seen that the increase range from 11 to 166 2-3 per cent. This is not too much for a grateful republic to do. It is no more than these soldiers are entitled to receive."

Two Barns Burn In Garrard
In Garrard county, Col. James I. Hamilton had the misfortune to lose two large tobacco and stock barns by fire of unknown origin. The loss is a heavy one amounting to several thousand dollars, with only $400 insurance. One of the barns contained about 2,500 bales of hay and quite a lot of tobacco that had recently been cut. Mr. Hamilton lost a similar barn about one year ago that was filled with tobacco that had just been stripped.
